HP Carbon neutrality certificate

In order for product carbon neutrality to be achieved, the carbon footprint must be minimized. This is possible with a combination of measures for reducing harmful gases during production, as well as introducing compensations for them.

Obtaining HP CarbonNeutral® product certification ensures that strict environmental requirements are met. In order to obtain it, a full product life cycle assessment (LCA) is carried out in accordance with ISO 14040 and ISO 14044 standards to determine the total carbon footprint of each HP printing device and consumables. Independent third parties then make checks and calculate the necessary compensations for the carbon footprint left by each product in the atmosphere.

Working for a sustainable future

Green selection

We offer ecologically certified products, manufactured without harmful emissions.

Paper packaging of the products

All purchased products from our stores and warehouses are packed in bags from recycled paper or cardboard boxes.

Our own photo-voltaic power plant

It allows us to empower the processes in the logistics center with our own renewable energy.

Eco certificate

We have an ISO 14001: 2015 certificate for international environmental management standard.

Print management system

We offer and use the IPS system, which significantly decreases excess paper consumption.

Electronic documents

We have been issuing electronic invoices to our customer for years. This action reduces paper consumption significantly.
